Thomas ALBERTI

Position

Avocat à la Cour, Member of the Luxembourg Bar, 2011

Education

2010 Certificate of complementary courses in Luxembourg law, University of Luxembourg

2009 Master’s degree in International Business Law, University of Nancy

2009 Degree in International Transactions, University of Nancy

Languages

French, English and Italian

Associations

Thomas is member of the Employment Law Specialists Association (ELSA)

Areas of practices

- Employment, Pensions & Immigration

Thomas is a highly experienced employment lawyer who provides invaluable advice to local and international clients on all aspects of employment, pensions and immigration laws.

His experience is vast and varied, encompassing a wide range of matters. He has successfully handled disputed redundancies, negotiated terminations, harassment investigations, due diligences, remuneration and termination packages, international mobility, collective bargaining agreements negotiations, relationships with staff delegations, and matters related to transfer of undertaking and social plans.

Thomas also has several years of experience in litigation, including commercial disputes in front of national and international courts, as well as in corporate law.

Prior to joining MOLITOR Avocats à la Cour, Thomas worked for several well-known international law firms in Luxembourg.